Name of the university: J. Selye University
Name of the faculty: Faculty of Education
Code: KMF/ AMS20/10	Name: Close reading of American short stories from the 20th century
Types, range and methods of educational activities: Form of study: Seminar Recommended extent of course (in hours): Per week: 1 For the study period: 13 Methods of study: present
Number of credits: 2
Recommended semester/trimester of study: 6.
Level of study: I.
Prerequisites:
Conditions for passing the subject: Two tests will be written during the semester, each with a score of 50 points. At least 90 points are required for grade A, 80 points for B, 70 points for C, 60 points for D, and a minimum of 50 points for E. Students who score under 50 points will not obtain a credit for this course.
Results of education: After successfully completing this course students will be able to analyse and interpret the most important pieces of 20th century American literature and to apply the techniques and methods of the main literary schools.
Brief syllabus: The course will focus on the intensive analysis of the most important pieces of 20th century American literature. The main goal of the subject is to provide students with an access to the in-depth analysis of a given literary work. During the semester emphasis will be on a kind of reading which is targeted not at the length of texts but at the intensive analysis of texts. The most important aim is to enable students to formulate and express their own thoughts, as well as to discover as many interpretations of a text as possible. During the semester students will apply the methods and techniques of the contemporary, active schools (such as hermeneutics, deconstruction, feminist interpretation, etc.).
